

Great Leaders

- Have clarity of vision - they know what they're doing, where they are going, and have the ability to take the whole team there too.
- See your potential and encourage you to work just outside of your comfort zone, and are flexible enough to let your own strengths to shine through.
- Equip you to excel in your job - by providing you with the knowledge and resources needed.
- Work at your level - they respect you and treat you as a peer, earning respect by working with you (not ABOVE).
- Listen and are true to their word - delivering on what they say they will do.
- Have professional integrity - meaning that if they cannot deliver on their promise, they openly acknowledge this and provide solutions to getting back on track.
- Are straight to the point - giving you timely, direct and constructive feedback that will make you better at your job.
- Trust you - they are confident to give direction and then step back and let you do your thing.

Get Better Soon.
I know you're not sick, but you could be better.
